Taxation in Canada

Third Article

The more exhaustively any study is made of the whole question of taxation in Canada, the stronger does the view prevail that under existing circumstances two main reforms are imperative. In the first place, radical changes should be effected in the methods now employed in the imposition and collection of the Income Tax in order that a simple, inexpensive and practical system be adopted for the present, elaborate, expensive and highly confusing one.

Secondly, and even more important in its effects on business and as a means of raising the large revenues now required without imposing too great a burden on anyone, and to bring about that equality of treatment which is essential in order to remove existing difficulties of business against all men, because of the many existing laws which are uniform, tax should be imposed on profits levied on business removed.

Is there one simple, uniform method that can be applied which will operate with absolute fairness all round and at the same time be capable of producing a large revenue, easily collectible and at a minimum of expense both to the Government and the taxpayer?

We believe there is, and that it is to be found in a fixed uniform tax on the turnover in all lines of business. The introduction of such a tax is in the favor in the United States, and, to the extent that it has been adopted in Canada, it is operating satisfactorily and with a minimum of expense.

The plan proposed is extremely simple. It is that everybody engaged in business, large or small, manufacturing, wholesale, jobbing, retail, law, врачи, doctors and professional men generally, transportation and financial corporations—in a word, everybody who renders service to the public and receives payment for the same—should pay a small tax on the gross turnover of the business in which they are engaged.

At the end of each month everyone who had made sales of any kind whatever would figure up the total amount of such sales, make out a cheque for 1 per cent of the amount, and forward it to the Government. All that would be necessary would be for the Government department to compile a complete list of all persons engaged in business in Canada, and after that that the members of Parliament, to see that proper remittances of the taxes were being made. If there is one thing a man in business cannot well hide it is the volume of his turnover. Profits may be hidden, expenses may be inflated, camouflage may be indulged in in many ways, but the great turnover of a business stands out clear and distinct. At the end of the calendar month—that is to say, that an annual statement of turnover—that is of gross sales—is submitted.

One per cent on the turnover of all business in Canada would unquestionably produce an enormous revenue, possibly more than would be required. One-half of one per cent might be sufficient. But whatever the amount of the tax it would be levied fairly and equitably on everybody, and there would be no difficulty for the elaborate system now prevailing, nor for business or business the obligation and expense incurred from the complicated system of returns and reports now demanded by the Finance Department.

Such a tax would be the essence of simplicity; it could not fail to be understood and easily grasped; it would apply to one and all alike; whereas the present system is distressingly complicated and manifestly unfair in its application.

The collection of the tax would be automatic and undisturbing, offering a sharp contrast to the present disturbing and highly expensive system.

The distribution of the burden of taxation would be just, falling like the rain. Those who consume the most and spend most would pay the most taxes. In the final analysis, all taxes are paid by the ultimate consumer and purchaser.

The revenue derived by the Government would not be dependent upon fluctuating periods of prosperity and depression in business, as it is often based on profits. The purchases of the people will, of course, vary somewhat, but the variation is not so great as to seriously affect the gross sales figure.

Any tax will increase prices to some extent, but a small tax on gross turnover will operate to enhance prices to a lesser degree than do the various forms of taxation now imposed on the business of the country.

Present extravagant methods in business would no longer be encouraged by the desire to spend what would otherwise become profits subject to taxation. A stabilized business economy and enterprise would again come to the front and thrive. The old incentive to enterprise and expansion would return.

And because the tax load would be spread equally over the whole population, it would be accepted without murmur and that resentment and bitterness of feeling which now is so prevalent because of a sense of injustice to the poor, the gay, the simple, the simple-souled, the poor, the honest and patriotic man who has the last cent due from him, the dishonest can gloat lightly through his dishonesty.

A Curious Rent.

The oddity of all the queer rents in the King of England's rent-book is the way which requires the tenants of certain lands near Dover to hold the King's horses in the King's stable. As King George is a sailor king, and has travelled farther, by thousands of miles, than any other monarch on record, it is not likely that he will call upon anybody to pay this curious rent.

To Cut Mosquitoes.

Many odd and bizarre uses for the airplane have been suggested and tried out, but the extermination of mosquitoes by their use is perhaps the most remarkable of all.

This idea is being pursued by the provincial government. An aerial survey of the Fraser River delta as the first step in a scheme to curb the annual swarms of mosquitoes has been ordered.

Agricultural Exports

Professor Arkell Urges Farmers to Regain Lost Ground.

Professor H. S. Arkell, Dominion livestock commissioner, addressing the agricultural section of the chamber of commerce at Hamilton, urged upon the farmers the necessity of getting their crops into the market and deplored the fact that the grain market had lost seriously in its export trade since the war. Other countries were now supplying the agricultural products which Canada alone had been producing, Professor Arkell said. "Canada's prosperity depends upon its ability to increase its export trade in agricultural products," he said.

RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE DISAPPEARED

As a Result of Treating the Troubles Through the Blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is to remove the cause of the disease and banish the pain. Many rheums and sufferers pain still.

When rheumatism is associated with blood it cannot be corrected without removing the blood.

Mr. Ed. Hall, Main-Dein, N.Y., suffered from rheumatism for years, failing to find a remedy that so bold up his entire system. He was told to "go to the doctor." This he did, and found the best doctor in Cape Breton, but they held out no hope for him.

Development of Water Transportation In West Will Be Deferred

It is not the intention of the Dominion Government at the present time to develop the water transportation service in the west, according to information received by the U.F.A. from the Hon. W. A. Scott, Minister of Public Works. A case has been mentioned by the farmers' organization that the North Saskatchewan River might be so improved in order to permit of traffic from Edmonton to the coast, that the minister inhibits a debate out that the present scale of wages would cost approximately $45,000,000. He mentioned, however, that at the proper time, when conditions are more favorable, that the government will give the matter further consideration. In his letter the Hon. Mr. McCord states:

"The engineers of the department advise that the report on the survey, which, however, has not yet been published, shows that a navigable waterway for light draft vessels from Ed-

To Consider Needs Of the Maimed

League of Nations Will Take Care of Disabled Men.

A section of the League of Nations has been established to deal with questions affecting disabled men and women. The League, whose chairman is the writer, has accordingly, a letter received by C. G. McNeil, Dominion secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, from A. Fidler, the official in charge of the new department at Ottawa.

The letter of the office will be considered in conjunction with the International Labor Office, and in order to facilitate its operations different organizations working for or in touch with disabled persons throughout the world will be asked to suggest names.

In the letter it is pointed out that the majority of disabled persons are handicapped despite any special vocational training they may have received. Whether the person is disabled at all times, immediately, as industrial accidents raise the same questions of compensation, supply of artificial limbs, vocational training, etc.

The International Labor Office is convinced that the problem of the disabled is of permanent and general importance, and, the letter states, "considers it desirable to make known the results obtained in the case of disabled men in war and to work for their application to the victims of industrial accidents and the disabled in general." The office will endeavor therefore to collect all information which will enable governments to take steps to meet the needs of the experience of others.

The International Labor Office has therefore entered into relations with the associations of the disabled in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, Germany and Austria, and is seeking to interest all other countries.

A Good Country to Live In.

Several families that left this district last fall to make their homes in the United States are finding their way back here as a consequence of a recent visit from Foreign, a small town in Central Alberta. The feeling is that the States is a fine place to live in. Among those who have returned to Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Praderl and family, and J. Hill and family. Four hundred thousand bushels of last season's wheat have been marketed through the elevators here, and it is estimated that there is another hundred thousand bushels yet to be disposed of in the district.

Curious Idea Among Burmese. A curious idea among the Burmese is that people born on the day of their birth are destined to be a curse to their race. To prevent these disastrous marriages every girl carries a record of her birthday in her name. motion to Lake Witlessay by dredging, diversion and bank protection works and by the construction of six dams with locks and canals could possibly be provided at a cost for this part of the work on pre-war prices of $40,000,000. At the present prices it would probably exceed the sum of $45,000,000.

As the matter stands there is no certainty that suitable sites can be found such as aggregate capacity would permit the carrying of the flood water down the river to the municipalities and build enough in storage for partial control and distribution during the period of deficiency.

The scheme, no doubt, when conditions are more favorable, will come up for careful consideration. I can assure you that I am quite alive to the importance of developing gradually our waterways and I am fully in sympathy with the object of the resolution passed by the U.F.A."

Grain Growing and Livestock vs. Fruit Growing.

The farmer who is producing the basic needs of humanity, such as grain, livestock and dairy products, can stand up under adverse conditions, but the farmer who is producing what is not basic, such as mandarin can grow along without.

People live without oranges, peaches and apricots, but they must have bread and meat.

Therefore the man who produces grain, meat and dairy products, can stand in times of scarcity, but the world shortage it is likely to become even more valuable.

At that time this part of the country was covered with brush and with the crude means of clearing these areas then available progress was slow. But the man was sure he was on the excellent road to success and the large production of the district now. After sixteen years of pioneering Mr. Putman decided to transfer his activities to the orange district of California, where he has since the last twelve years.

He has recently returned to Canada and with the same enthusiasm and with the same energy as when he left. He has no fault to find with California except that under present market conditions he believes that he can do better in Alberta than he can in California.

Little Anti-British Sentiment in U.S.

Philip Gibbs Says Intelligent People Realize Importance of Amicable Relations.

Sir Philip Gibbs, the well-known English journalist, author and war correspondent, having visited more than twenty cities in the United States recently, said in an interview in Toronto that there was no general ill-feeling in the United States and Great Britain so far as he had seen.

"All the educated and intelligent people there," he said, "realize that the future of the world is virtually dependent upon the amicable relations between these two great countries." Reference was made to one of his meetings in New York. Sir Philip said: "I certainly had a hot time in New York. I was convinced, however, that the Simon Fein sympathizers are in a very small minority there. In New York, I met a number of people who had no idea that I was assured by many of the leading citizens that it was only a well organized minority that were trying to create a disturbance."

Sir Philip expressed the opinion that Dominion Home Rule was the only solution to the British problem.

Drugs In British Columbia Forests

Attempt to Make to Preserve Valuable Medicinal Bark From Destruction.

A number of Japanese cutters are despoiling the forests of British Columbia by destroying root and branch, all the native supplies of the cascara sagrada bush is given up to the Japanese cutters. There is interest in preserving this valuable medicinal bark. The legislature is to be asked at the coming session to pass legislation to preserve this and other valuable medicinal bark and other destruction.

It is known that five tons of this valuable drug were shipped out of the Salmon Arm district recently by two Japanese gatherers, while two others of their competitors shipped out of the same district.

Another little company of Japanese gatherers took out three tons of cascara bark and roots from the Jervis Inlet district, and two tons were shipped by Japanese from Nanaimo from Vancouver Island.

The cascara which is referred to in the botanical works of ten years ago as "the Pacific Coast's great gift to mankind" is said to be so delicate that it cannot be dried, and the Japanese cutters realize gathering that there is no longer any of this bark to be found, within reach of transportation.

Prices have risen within the last few years from 2 cents a pound to over 10 cents a pound, and the market is limited, and with the world shortage it is likely to become even more valuable.

At present Japan and Germany are the two greatest sources of supply for cascara bark, and the medical man who is interested in this subject, the shrub has been introduced by seedlings from the Pacific coast. Stringent laws are enforced to preserve green shrubs in the botanical gardens from the prairie co-boards being forbidden to take from the trees each year more than it will be possible for the tree to reproduce.

Interest Increases

In Oilfield

Mr. C. Hamer Jackson Will Be First Woman at Fort Norman.

Mr. C. Hamer Jackson, a lady journalist of Edmonton, will be the first woman to visit Fort Norman oil fields, where the leaves as soon as the weather permits, as the representatives of the members of the British papers and the New York Times. The money will be made by hydroplane. Mr. Hamer Jackson is a Fellow of the Institute of Journalists and accompanied the Imperial Press corps to the opening of the first across Canada.

Under the management of H. A. Brooke, the Fort Norman Oil and Development Syndicate proposes an active campaign in the north country during the coming season. The company will acquire a large acreage in the northern oilfield, and in order to get there in good season we have purchased four large hydroplanes which will follow the line of the Peace River town to the north-east point. The route will be from Fort Vermilion, then to Hay River Fort and along the valley of that stream to Hay Harbor on Great Slave Lake, and from there to Fort Norman, following the route one going and the other coming—the company also expect to put a large sixteen-passenger plane on the route at a later date.

These aerial machines are all of the latest type, and the company itself is solely a British one, with headquarters at Vancouver.

Automatic cameras will be taken along for the purpose of mapping the country, while it is Brooke's intention to have the first aerial photograph of last year when by means of a moving picture machine he secured a tremendous quantity of data hitherto unknown.

Each plane will carry sufficient fuel for the round trip and no difficulty is expected in travelling to and from Fort Norman by the air route.

Mr. Brooke, who has just returned from Vancouver, states that the Canadian city is the best in the world.

Great interest is being shown in the proposed extension of the P.G. and E. railroad, which, when completed, will have the effect of diverting much of the trade which now comes to Edmonton—an arrangement which the Vancouver people are very anxious to see consummated.

Some conception of it may be obtained from the following statement made by Mr. Brooke: "A telescope might in some cases be ten times as far away as previously supposed. He has seen the sun in the universe, something like three thousand light years—that is, it would take a beam of light about three hundred thousand years to pass across."

Results of Experiments In Weed Control And Soil Drifting

Two experienced men who accompanied the Imperial seed train on its recent tour of the prairie provinces have valuable hints on fighting weeds. One of these was Mr. Tinline, superintendent of the Scott experimental station, the other was Prof. Hansen, of the College of Agriculture at Saskatoon.

Freedom from weeds was the rule in the early years of settlement, said Mr. Tinline, while at the present time the farmers are paying for the handling of many trials of weed seeds, seed, etc. In general, in seed control, there are other crops than wheat and oats, which will help in control. It would seem that poor summerfallow, such as the prairie, is not good for the physical condition of the soil, and it can be best adapted to the growing of grasses or of the legumes, which in addition to the organic matter they provide to the soil.

The fall consideration is moisture, then comes organic matter—root fibre and nitrogen. The organic matter is beneficial to the physical condition of the soil, and it can be best adapted to the growing of grasses or of the legumes, which in addition to the organic matter they provide to the soil.

The Origin of Gall Stones

They are simply dried bile made up of crystalline constituents of the gall. Very common is this disease among physicians, clergymen, shop assistants, etc., who are compelled to forego a sedentary life.

Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, a good diet, exercise, etc., and the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

No person using Dr. Hamilton's Pills will be troubled with gall stones, etc., and will have a good appetite, etc.

"Gall-Pills" are the price," said the producer.

The Indian suddenly refused, but, his departing visitor had reached the door, called out,

"Wait, we play half-hour for dollars."

He got the job.

Life.

Certain morbid conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they will eat as long as there is food available to permit them to do so. To be rid of them and share the child suffering, use Miltbun's Nervous Food. It destroys the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions of the bowels are soon restored, and the child will have no more trouble from that cause.

Supporting Talent.

"Your son is musical, isn't he?" "Oh, yes, he's in the band."

"What does he play?"

"He holds up the front of the drum when they march."

Milbun's Liniment For Burns, Etc.

The prickly nearey, which always affects 22,000,000 acres in Australia, spreads at the rate of 3,000,000 acres yearly.

It is only a matter of time until the man with the bowing habit runs out of friends.

There will be a large basement, which will contain dressing rooms, and the main floor of the building will be a large hall, with a central dance floor, with supporting pillars down the middle and between these pillars and the outside walls tables and chairs will be placed and light refreshments served to those desirous of a quiet, comfortable corner, which will also be operated in connection with the Hall.

It is expected that the building will be completed by the beginning of May.

Six Floating Mines Still Missing.

Canada's search for the missing six floating mines has been held off the entrance of Halifax harbor in 1918 by German submarine, eight have been picked up or otherwise accounted for. The last mine recovered was a "live" one found on a shoal ledge by an oiler. An oiler on board the H.M.S. Duxbury, was notified and proceeded to Sambro, where he removed the explosives. The six mines still unaccounted for are believed to have floated to mid-ocean or beyond.

BURDETT

Peter Westley and Charlie Strand have rented the Donaldson farm for coming season

Harvey Elford was a business visitor or to a large farm in the Chinook district

In spite of the bad night there was a large crowd at the Theatre last Saturday when Mr. Sandy put on a very fine Picture Show. The Public showed by their appreciation that it he would give more such entertainments he would be well repaid for his enter-prise

Vi. Warrey with his wife and two children have returned to the farm for the season

The slough in town has again proved useful as during the week a nice clear water was obtained from it for use in the Club during the coming Summer
